FAMILY WORDS ★

One family, oldest at the top. Tap a person to hear the word. Your language is under each one.

Your aunt is your mother's sister OR your father's sister. Your uncle is your mother's brother OR your father's brother. English uses the same word for both sides of the family.

TALKING ABOUT A PLAN: GOING TO ★★

For a future plan: subject + am/is/are + going to + verb. The verb stays simple: going to VISIT, not visits.

I am

going to + verb

I am going to visit my family.

he · she · it is

going to + verb

She is going to visit her mother.

you · we · they are

going to + verb

They are going to visit their aunt.

The verb after going to never changes: going to visit, not visits, not visiting.

FAMILY VACATION PLANS ★★

Tap a sentence to hear it. Then say a plan of your own, out loud.

I am going to visit my mother in Ecuador this summer.

She is going to see her grandmother in Haiti in July.

We are going to visit our family in France next year.

He is going to travel to Iran in the spring.

They are going to visit their aunt in Mexico this winter.
