No key.

6 Build It — Doctor's Orders GRAMMAR

IN CLASS

give a real situation, then ask how strong to be — can, should, need to, have to? There is no wrong answer in that column, so let them disagree; only the agreement is checked. · The strength ladder is on How Strong Is It?

ANSWER KEY

You should rest at home today. · He has to see a doctor right now. · They can't go to work this week. · She needs to take the medicine twice a day.

The red word is your choice, not ours. "You can rest at home" and "You have to rest at home" are both correct English. They just do not mean the same thing.
